OUR CHIEF GIVER

"IT ALL STARTS WITH A SAFE, DRY PLACE YOU CALL HOME."

-CHUCK ANANIA

OUR HISTORY

While on a trip to Colombia, South America, in 2010, Chuck Anania was deeply moved by the extreme poverty and terrible conditions he saw there.

Collapsing, leaky roofs posed serious health, safety and quality of life issues affecting many children and the elderly. He knew he had to help in some way.

Drawing on his nearly 20 years of roofing experience, he figured out a way to help those unable to help themselves in a continuous, sustainable way. And from there Roof4Roof was born.

Established in 2010, ROOF4ROOF is the first and only roofing company that follows the One4One business model.

British Businessman Neil Heywood Divulged Too Much

Revealing Bo Xilai and Gu Kaifan organ harvesting crimes led to his murder

BY WANG YIBO
EPOCH TIMES STAFF

The much-loved British business man Neil Heywood knew the truth—and apparently talked about what he knew. That according to a source familiar with the matter, was the motive for his being killed.

Heywood's involvement with former Chinese Communist Party secretary Bo Xilai and Bo's wife Gu Kaifan for more extensive than has previously been reported. It apparently included profiting with them from the atrocity of broad organ harvesting and human rights trading in dead bodies. It also involved his assisting them in plans for a coup.

Heywood was found poisoned to death in the lucky Holiday Hotel in the central-western metropolis of Chongqing on Nov. 24, 2011. On April 16, Gu Kaifan and her employee Zhang Naonan were reportedly in custody as suspects in the murder.

Gu was originally described by state-run media as having murdered Heywood due to business

Heywood was involved with Bo and Gu in the business of organ harvesting in Liaoning Province, according to a source.

In July 2011, in his first on the matter since 2011, the regime mouthpiece Xinhua elaborated on this matter, as much of the disgraced man's business matters. It was reported Heywood would have been in Bo's custody and decided to murder the British businessman. Heywood was certainly involved in the Bo family's business dealings—he helped them move the billions Bo and Gu had acquired through various deals inside China to accounts outside China.
